SPAAL Monitoring Centre Certification Terms and Conditions

Fees and associated expenses:

- Initial certification applications to AS 2201.2 - 2004: $1650 (SPAAL members) or $1850 (non members).
- Renewal applications lodged before expiry of previous certification: $1550 (SPAAL members) or $1750 (non members). All fees are GST Inclusive and a Tax Invoice receipt will be issued upon receipt of fees payable.
- Fees include the initial inspection, preparation of any defects report or the issue of the grading certificate.
- Any associated expenses such as the inspector's travel time and costs will be invoiced separately after the inspection.
- The initial fee is payable at the time of lodging application.
- Any major compliance issues identified requiring re-inspection will be subject to additional charges.

Inspection details:

Certification will be carried out by an independent inspector appointed by SPAAL.

All documentation to support requirements of clauses within AS2201.2 Standard is to be available at the time of inspection.

A written defects report will be provided covering any outstanding matters associated with the initial inspection.

Any re-inspection of defects must be completed within 3 months of the issue date of the defects report (rectification allowance period). Failure of the applicant to rectify items detailed in the defects report within this period will nullify any previous inspection and require the submission of a new application and applicable fee. Any objections to the inspector's defects report shall be made in writing to SPAAL within 14 days of the date of the defects report for adjudication. Any such objections shall not negate the rectification period allowance for the defects report.

Validity Period

Certificates are valid for a maximum of 2 years subject to the ongoing compliance with the requirements of AS2201.2 (2004).

SPAAL reserve the right to change the term and conditions without notice
